Vision

Kross Studio emerged from my desire to create contemporary complication watches, seamlessly blending form with function, all the while respecting the fundamental codes of watchmaking.

My creations go beyond the simple measurement of time. They are at the center of universes or collaborations that convey emotions, revive memories, and captivate the imagination.

That’s my concept of Functional Art.”

- Marco Tedeschi

Design

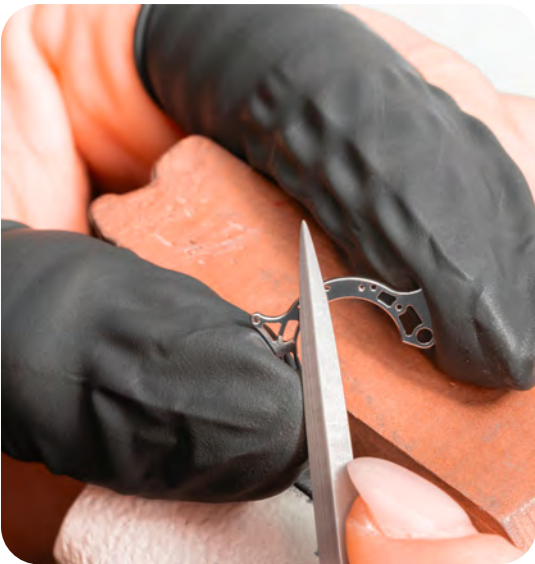

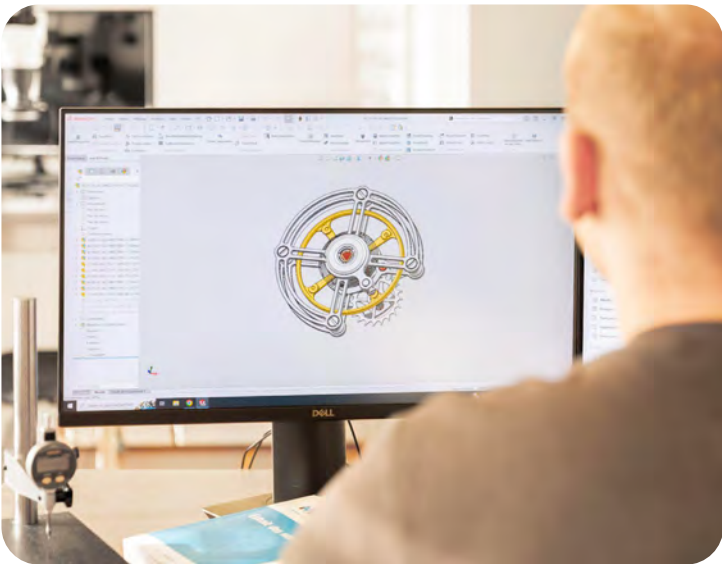

The design of each of our movements is based on an innovative idea. Concurrently, the casing is crafted in a minimalist style, with every contour intentionally designed to improve functionality.

This approach gives birth to a unique collection of complication watches, available in limited editions or tailor-made to satisfy the desires of the most discerning collectors.

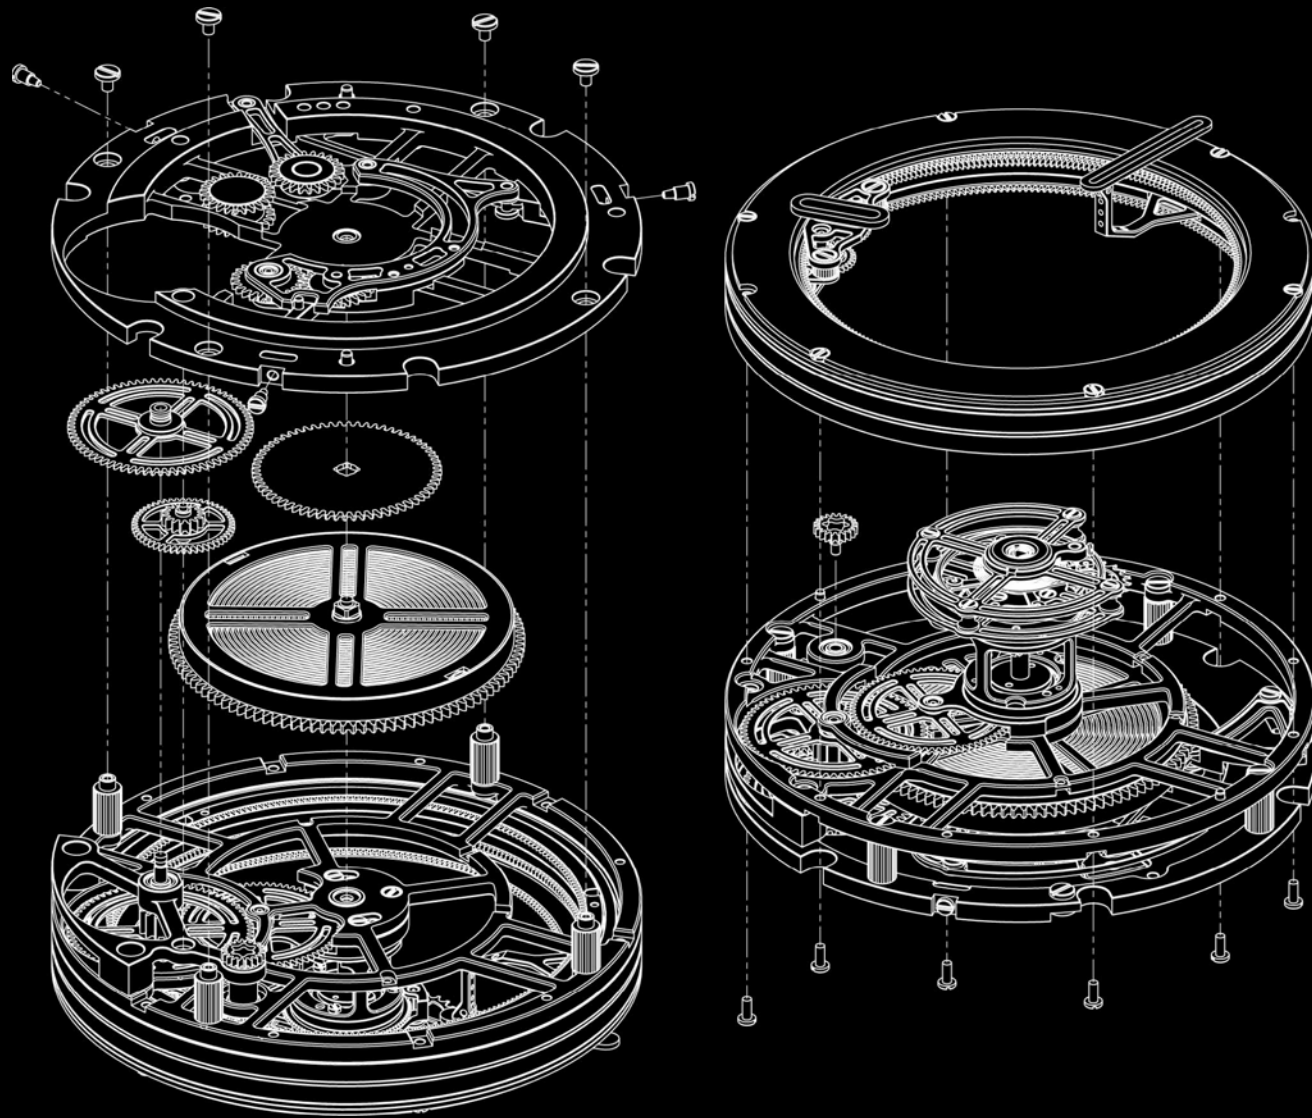

KROSS STUDIO CREATIVITY IS POSSIBLE THANKS TO ITS INTEGRATED PRODUCTION.

All our movements and watch cases are designed, manufactured, decorated, and assembled in our factory in Gland. This independence allows us to materialize our creativity without limits. We even produce some of our art piece components.

Movements

The movements conceived and crafted in our workshops reflect our desire to create contemporary complication watches. These pieces are designed differently, standing out in the watchmaking universe, particularly in the realm of mechanical movements, while addressing an inherent inconvenience: the frequent manual winding they require.

The inception of our first born caliber, the KS 7'000, marked a paradigm shift, aiming to create a mechanical movement with an exponential power reserve. Departing from conventional norms, the KS 7'000 reimagines movement design, placing main functions concentrically and coaxially at the center of the watch.

Movements

Featuring an oversized barrel and balance wheel, seamlessly integrated tourbillon cage, and streamlined construction eliminating unnecessary components like the gear train, the KS 7'000 achieves a remarkable 120-hour power reserve while maintaining chronometric performance. Crafted meticulously in our workshops, utilizing CNC machines and artisanal finishing, each component reflects our commitment to excellence.

Expanding our horological repertoire, the KS 7'001 introduces innovative time display mechanisms, exemplifying our commitment to pushing boundaries.

Moreover, our patented floating central tourbillon, the KS 7'005, elevates movement aesthetics, offering a captivating perspective on its mechanics.

Driven by a passion for innovation and craftsmanship, Kross Studio continues to redefine the horological landscape, offering unparalleled experiences to enthusiasts worldwide.

Collaborations

Collaborations

Within this array of extraordinary pieces, some are exclusively designed for our collaborative projects. These are coupled with Functional Art pieces to create a Collector Set.

We collaborate with the biggest names in entertainment and pop culture such as Warner Bros. Discovery, HBO, DC Comics, Hasbro, and Lucasfilm.

The KS 7'000, our first born in-house caliber, serves as the cornerstone of exclusive collaborations with global entertainment giants, adorning watches inspired by iconic characters and themes. From Boba Fett to the Death Star, every piece is unique, with customized components mirroring its thematic universe.

Moreover, our vision of Functional Art extends to the crafting of remarkable accessories, including table clocks, and both rotating and travel cases.
